INVITATION FOR SYMPOSIUM PROPOSALS

The Poultry Science Association (PSA) Organizing Committee is now accepting symposium proposals for the 2024 PSA Latin American Scientific Conference being held in Iguazú Falls, Paraná, Brazil, on 8-10 October 2024. Proposals can be submitted online through the Poultry Science Association website beginning 1 November 2023. The submission deadline is 14 March 2024.

The conference is focused on the Latin American poultry industry and related academic research. This conference attracts international attention from all who have a specific interest in the Latin American poultry sciences and networking with related poultry professionals.

The Organizing Committee is inviting all segments of the poultry sciences, including both industry and academia, to submit proposals for symposia which are focused on the Latin American poultry industry and/or highlighting LATAM academic research. All proposals should address one of the following key criteria:

- Current topic of significant interest or challenge/opportunity for the poultry industry in Brazil and/or throughout Latin America
- Global topic of interest that highlights the research expertise and production experiences of the Latin American scientists and poultry producers
- Topic which demonstrates how “connecting the global poultry science community” has provided the greatest advancements of science

Symposium proposals are invited for consideration by the PSA Organizing Committee. The deadline for submission is 14 March 2024. Proposals can be submitted on the PSA website at www.poultryscience.org/Latin-American-Scientific-Conference and are limited to 2, 3 or 4 hours in length. Proposals for 3 or 4 hour symposia must allow for a 30-minute break.

This conference is expected to draw the very best of poultry professionals who are influential in the production of poultry throughout all of Latin America. This will be a unique opportunity for you and your organization to highlight valuable research on a current and relevant topic of interest to one of the largest poultry producing regions of the world.

If you have any questions or need assistance with submission of proposals, please contact Jon Cole, Director of Business Operations, at jon.cole@poultryscience.org.

Plan to join us in Iguazú Falls on 8-10 October 2024.
